

Secret Library Talks Up Wages 12½ %

Annual salary negotiations, conducted away from the view of the public and with a press blackout as to proceedings, have resulted in a 12½ per cent boost in salary for employees of the Placentia Library District.

Formalization of the new contract is expected at the next meeting of the Library Board of Trustees on Thursday night, June 10.

The library employees, who have been affiliated with the Orange County Employees Association since last year, the same organization that serves City Hall workers, accepted the "final" trustee offer Friday.

At the time, both Library Director David Snow and Mrs. Irene Czapinski, a trustee were in attendance at a library conference in Sacramento. President of the trustees, Victor Michel, is out of the city on vacation and not available for comment. The board has no vice president.

Mrs. Kathryn McKnight, secretary of the board, the only other trustee officer, said that she was unsure as to whether the board had legally been required to conduct the negotiations without any announcements to the public or whether it was done by choice.

"But it was certainly much pleasanter this way," she reported.

Last year library employees, newly joined with OCEA, received a 15 per cent salary increase.

However, the press and public were informed of events in the negotiations by the employees.

"We do not plan on going to the public every year," James G. Harker, OCEA, chief negotiator for the library employees, stated. "We don't think that's a good tactic."

Library Director Snow said that the library trustees decision to keep all the negotiations secret and away from the press and the public "was perfectly legal," and had been conducted that way through the years.

Also participating in the decision was Mrs. Virginia Farmer, then a trustee of the library and now on the Placentia City Council.

Snow quoted from the Brown Act which permits executive sessions in connection with consultations and discussions with employee organizations representatives.

The law is not mandatory but states "a legislative body of a local agency may hold executive sessions with its designated representatives prior to and during consultations and discussions with representatives of employee organizations regarding the salaries, salary schedules or compensation paid in the form of fringe benefits of employees in order to review its position and instruct its designated representatives."

Snow agreed that there is nothing in the law that prevents library trustees from informing the press and the public of what is taking place, thereby permitting public input if the public so desires, "but the trustees decided not to do that."

Negotiators for the board were Snow and principal librarian Sal Addotta, both of whom are on public salaries.

Information from the employees negotiating revealed this week that their first demands, through OCEA were for a variety of raises for employees.

"The Association requests that a salary increase be granted for each classification in an amount equal to the percentage required to increase wages in Placentia to that of the average of all libraries in the County of Orange. In no event shall this increase be more than 20 per cent for any classification," the letter read.

Employees also requested an exchange in holidays, the day after Thanksgiving for Lincoln's Birthday.

Other items were that employees receive time and a half for Sunday; the full cost of medical insurance for employees and dependents and dental insurance for employees; that the district provide full compensation to employees who are unable to work due to a compensable worker's compensation injury and that performance evaluations be made out with the consultation of the immediate supervisor.

The answer to Harker's letter from Snow, suggested several

SOCIAL ELEMENT GENERAL PLAN REVISITED

The city of Placentia is still without a Social Element for the city's General Plan through 1988.

Placentia City Council members hearing a presentation of the proposed document Tuesday night, suggested such things as word changes. Councilwoman Virginia Farmer spoke of submitting the document to a study session.

"Certainly the policies and goals are commendable and worthwhile and very necessary. The concern that I have with the element," Mrs. Farmer stated, "is that if we formulate our language in such positive terms that some layman picking it up and not understanding our intent...would say you are not doing what you should be doing. And perhaps at that point in time, the city council may not find the funding for these programs but can do it later and then can implement it."

"My suggestion is that we simply, in my terms, liberate the language and move it from a narrow verb to a more permissive verb," Mrs. Farmer concluded.

Councilman Donald Holt mentioned overlapping services.

The vote was unanimous to continue study on the document.

Of concern to observers however, is the city's reluctance to get on the track and stay on it. The pressing social service needs of the entire city is what this document is expected to contain, and how these will be dealt with for the next 12 years.

We were a little surprised at the staff presentation to the City Council Tuesday night.

The correlation between economic problems and education level was emphasized. A nationwide study was referred to describing that 20 per cent of students who graduate from high school are not learning proper skills, and not learning to read or write.

Fred West, Director of Placentia Social Services, said that he believes that it is important that we begin focusing on using resources that will increase the level of education for Placentia residents "because of this correlation that exists between education and income."

"We believe that if we are going to begin to turn things around, we must begin to work much more closely with our school system in identifying at an early level, children that are not doing well in school."

West then quoted that in six of eight census tracts in the city, the median income ranges from $15,000 a year to over $20,000. Two areas report family incomes around $9,000 a year.

"This is not a one year program. This is a long range concern," West outlined.

West proposes to "work more effectively with the school system, involved with counseling and with parents."

"I think there is a big challenge before us to link up more effectively with the school systems, to improve the skills that children are learning through the schools and other agencies which will also down the road reduce the need for many services that are currently available today."

Beer-Wine Permit Taps Confusion

A fourth go round on a beer and wine license for an eating establishment across the street from the Placentia Senior Citizens building and within a block of two churches, ended in a hung city council vote Tuesday night.

At the end of the hour long proceedings it was uncertain as to what the decision was; whether or not there had been police activity at the building; what the legal advice on the decision had been from City Attorney Charles Post III; what had been involved in the change of staff recommendation from denial to approval and what would be the next step in the council tangle.

The matter in question is a petition for city approval to secure a permit to serve beer and wine at a restaurant at 201 South Bradford at the corner of Bradford Avenue and Center Street. The establishment is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Gerion Sandoval.

Representing them was Frederick Aguirre, Fullerton attorney, who began some of the controversy with a letter presented to council members stating that Placentia Police Chief Norman Traub had reported "that according to police records, no arrests had been made at the premises and no complaints had been received regarding the restaurant since its inception in March, 1974."

"In addition, he stated," the letter read, "the Police Department would have no objection to the sale of beer and wine on the premises."

The inclusion brought complaints from two businessmen directly across the street from El Farolito Restaurant, who told of seeing police cars at the establishment.

Otto Bixler, owner of the Kazoo, a teenage dress shop directly across the street, stated concerning the police arrests. "That's not to say that the police haven't had to be called. We have witnessed the police coming there for a disturbance including an injury disturbance."

"I would think it would be in the record where somebody had his head split open fighting there."

Bixler objected to the establishment as being a "congregating place for young men and not a family restaurant. People don't come and go a lot," Bixler added. "They come and sit around, stand around on the sidewalk and talk. They do not seem to be behaving as someone who just came for a family meal. And I don't see how it will become a family restaurant by serving beer and wine."

Bixler further complained that most of his customers are young girls between 12 and 25 and they have been hollered at and stared at.

Lee Castner, who owns two buildings across the street stated: "Unless there is something wrong with my eyeballs, it took two police cars to pull up in front of the place and take care of a problem over there where there was physical violence, whether there was a police record on it or not, action was necessary... and that's not the first time. That's the second time that I know of for sure and I think Saturday it took another policeman."

"They were over there if there is no record at all because I know my eyes aren't that bad," Castner concluded.

Mayor Pro Tem William Rashford, inquiring of Chief Traub for an explanation was told: "We checked the file relative to incidents at that location and we have none reported in the master index file. We may have had a call that was not recorded but we have no information. We checked with personnel and they all indicated that that location has not been a problem to us."

Asked later if it was not unusual for an attorney to have a report from the Police Chief regarding a matter to come before the city council, instead of the information being delivered directly to the council as a staff report, Traub said that it was

Teachers Flood Board Room Over Negotiations

Protesting that it has been 47 days since they put their desires in writing, teachers of the Placentia Unified School District filled the board room to overflowing Monday night awaiting a reply from trustees.

Kerry Johnson, president of the Placentia Unified Education Association, the bargaining unit for teachers, requested an answer to the group's first proposal which includes request for roughly a 14 per cent salary raise amounting to about $2.3 million.

"These teachers are visiting the board because they are frustrated, concerned and questioning," Johnson pointed out.

"Today we must reconsider our priorities and agree on what is in the best interest of children, patrons, parents and all employees and agree that a contract that is fair and equitable should be sought without delay."

William Cook, a PUSD parent, who has spoken to trustees before in protest of teacher demands, stated Monday night: "Recently it has been my enlightening experience to read the PUEA proposed master contract in its entirety. I was shocked and dismayed at the apparent complete disregard for fiscal responsibility expressed on its pages."

"Understanding that that is just the starting point, I was still amazed that teachers in the district would seek to obtain so many costly benefits."

"I can only compare the proposed contract to the Christmas list of a child who does not understand how or where support comes from. In this case the benefactor who is being asked to provide the all expenses paid good life for the teachers is the increasingly burdened taxpayer, who on the average works 49 or 50 weeks a year, at least 8 hours a day not counting lunch and who in most cases pays for a portion of what insurance he can afford."

"If the average working person were to ask for all the time off the teachers now enjoy, not to mention the additional time they are asking for, he would at least be laughed at and possibly dismissed," Cook concluded.

Teachers in their first demands, besides the salary increases, are seeking additional days of paid leave and a full dental and orthodonture plan in addition to present health benefits.

PUEA also is asking an agency shop concept in which all teachers

GoldenHawks CIF Baseball Champions

BY BRIAN HILDERBRAND

Starting out with a second place in the league finish, the Golden Hawk diamondmen came from behind in post season play to win their first 2-A CIF baseball championship.

It was the fourth CIF title this year for El Dorado teams.

The baseball crown was won before a capacity crowd at Glover Stadium in Anaheim against finalist Mira Costa. The score was a squeaker, 2 to 1.

The winning pitcher, Dan Petry with four playoff wins, is in strong contention for Player of the Year.

The Golden Hawks this year have already won three other CIF titles...waterpolo, girls basketball and wrestling.

Piacenza's As Near As Friendly Teletype

The entourage of Placentia youngsters and parents, leaving next Tuesday for a visit to Piacenza, Italy, may have found a quick cure for possible homesickness.

Tuesday the Placentia Library was surprised to see a message arriving on its teletype...from Italy...from Piacenza to be exact.

Hosting students in Italy and teacher, Mrs. Rita Levoni, who organized a visit of Italian youngsters to Placentia, USA last year, had uncovered Piacenza's one teletype, in the Placentia Library.

The message came through: "We do apologize for using your TLX, but it is the only one we have found in your town."

"We are writing on behalf of the schoolboy group from Piacenza that paid a visit to your town in May, 1975 and we should be really grateful if you could pass the following message to Mrs. Eva Carter (sponsoring the current trip):

"Please be informed that Sisal Spa, whose president is a good friend of mine, have put their telex at our disposal for any need of everybody during the stay here in Piacenza. You can advise also interested families that all messages will be passed to the group. Everything is OK and everybody is longing to welcome you and all the group members. Regards, Rita Levoni."

"We thank you very much for your assistance and sorry, for the inconvenience."

That $15 Fee Still With Us

Placentia's $15 inspection fee which a property owner is obliged to pay when he sells his home, may become like death and taxes...inevitable.

Some members of the Placentia City Council have expressed their disenchantment with the local requirements which also can include inspection fees for such items as new water tanks, dishwashers, air conditioning additions, garage door openers and lawn sprinklers.

However, Mayor Pro Tem William Rashford, appointed a committee of one by Mayor George De Jesus to further investigate the possibility of eliminating the tax did not bring back very heartening news to the city council meeting Tuesday night.

Rashford explained that he had gone over the records with staff and "an average case would be about $7 (in addition to the $15 inspection fee) and a fee over $30 would be rare."

He also described safety considerations.

Ben Minamide, Director of the city's Community Development Department explained: "It is a disclosure act, consumer oriented, but serving the dual purpose of keeping our existing housing stock up to code. It's a positive thing for our housing stock."

The council took no rescinding action.

Items which require permits include room additions, covered patios, playhouses, swimming pools, gazebos, electrical modifications, outdoor lighting, wiring, plumbing additions and many others.

Letters To The Editor

Former Mayor States

Dear Betty,

Your article on the Social Element of the Placentia General Plan shows your usual perceptive analysis of "government by the people". No criticism of Fred West, Social Services Director was intended by your article, I am sure, nor is it intended by this letter, however, your first criticism of a complex document is right to the point.

The Social Element is intended to guide both the elected Council and the General Public in developing meaningful programs. Unfortunately, it, like many other documents of present day government seems to be written in stilted language that never quite gets to the point. You singled out our Social Element. It also contains 65% history, 25% generalization and 10% plan. Too often this type of presentation comes from copying a preceding document and forgetting that the objective is communication with the user, i.e., the voting (and paying) public.

Voicing an opinion such as you have done will encourage the local governments to "tell it like it is". As always you have been helpful in your comments.

Bureaucratic documents can be made understandable, if not entertaining, if that objective is defined at the onset. This year's budget seems to be a good example of a complex issue made readable. Frank Dunnivant and his staff deserve the credit for a job well done, but also my favorite letter writer, Jo, should get some credit for suggesting that. Even (ex) Mayor's wives have a difficult time reading budgets. (See following letter).

With regard to your article on the Ontiveros adobe, and the desire of the Orange County Historical Society in preserving it: Dr. David Messenger and the Placentia-Yorba Linda Heritage Society were interested in the Ontiveros adobe back in '67 or '68 as I recall and did some background research. A couple of things came out of the research: one, in order to meet continually upgraded codes, the Ontiveros adobe, although originally historically significant, has been refitted and modified so many times that it is a genuine replica of a real thing. Secondly, the experience of Rialto in using an adobe as a monument is that you have a choice of allowing the (paying) public access to the adobe in which case it is reduced to rubble and graffiti in three years or you put a fence around the adobe and let the public view it through chain link barriers. If the people of Orange County want to see a genuine replica of a real thing, Disneyland or Knott's could do it better. We don't need to use our money on a misguided application of nostalgia.

We recently went to Valley Forge and one of the major disappointments in viewing the battle field of such importance to our country was that ruins which were real, were replaced by replicas which weren't.

With regards to Pete Laborde's letter and Mundo Ponce's reply or vice-versa. Pete has been complaining that he had been double dealt since 1972 (to my knowledge) and yet has never filed a claim, instituted a law suit, nor shown up for a meeting to defend his case. As Mayor, I did everything in my power to see that Pete got a fair hearing to no avail, he continually dodged the issue.

I'm personally tired of reading about his alleged dealings with the City, but if that's what the people want to read, I suggest you charge him the normal commercial rate because his letters aren't news.

If anything is crooked at City Hall, better people than Mr. Laborde have been looking for it for two years and haven't found it.

Is it possible that the elected officials (three different Councils) have been telling the truth all this time? Heresy!

Former First Lady Calls

Dial-up-Mayor message:
Personable Mayor Lyons,
honey, sir:

You know that budget you guys put together and that I used to fight you know who? Well, you need a tour guide to get through it. If I were John Q. Public and went down to City Hall and asked to see the City's budget and they showed me that, I doubt if I could come up with the right answer. In fact, if two people were looking for the same thing I doubt if they could come up with the same answer.

Example: The Fire Department. Your little circle in the front says expenditures for the Fire Department takes up 11% and is $564,442. Page 66 says it's $629,442, then you tell me to turn to page 92, divide all that by the number of employees in the department, which I don't know, add in the paramedics, which I haven't found yet, and that gives me the answer. Oh Ya? Could you please put out a sheet simply stating how much each department costs per year? If the public wants detailed information then they can use the book.

Thank you your honor, dear.

Your not so personable

P.S. Please pick up a loaf of bread on your way home.

TRI-CITY PARK AUTHORITY, in charge of developing the sub regional park at the apex of the three cities at the northwestern corner of Placentia, last week named new officers. In an exchange of Placentia mayors, former Placentia Mayor Robert Lyons (front, left) stepped down as chairman of the authority and present Placentia Mayor George De Jesus was named to replace him (back row, far right). Other members of the authority include (in the front row) Thomas Collins, representing Orange County Supervisor and Councilwoman Frances Wood of Fullerton. In the back row, Brea Councilman Sal Gambina; Fullerton representative and vice chairman Wesley Smith; Brea Councilman Sam Cooper, who will be replaced later by Jean Layton.

As interested observers we're more confused than ever. We're also concerned. Have we now set up a $50,000 a year city department for the purpose of "straightening out" the school system?

We seem to have wandered aimlessly completely out of the ballpark.

changes in the Employees Handbook, one limiting rest breaks to 15 minutes; requesting a written statement from the doctor after a three-day sick leave absence and others.

The trustees turned down time and a half for Sunday as part of the regular 40-hour a week schedule and request for a new classification of Library Assistant II.

The proposal for workman's compensation, performance evaluation and holiday change were immediately granted by the trustees.

The library board's first offer to employees was a 7 1/2 per cent raise and $33.32 a month to each employee for dependent medical insurance and $6 a month dental program.

The final offer, which the employees accepted was the 12 1/2 per cent combined boost with no further medical and dental provisions.

The big increase still leaves Placentia salaries below the county median, Harker pointed out. Methods used to determine this, members of the OCEA stated, are to poll all other libraries in the county regardless of size or any differences in job qualifications required in each employee category, between Placentia and other groups.

Harker said that the raise would mean roughly a $75 a month increase to a $600 a month library clerk.

A clerk's salary will now range from $560 to $680 a month; clerk II from $633 to $771 a month; library assistant from $690 to $840; a librarian with a master's degree from $820 to $998 and a Librarian II from $952 to $1160. Snow itemized.

Snow said the wage increase will not necessitate seeking a hike in property taxes. The new implement will add $22,633 to the overall salary package of $109,660 expected to be included at the next budget session of the trustees.

Assistant Principals Approved

Two assistant principals serving in acting capacities in the Placentia Unified School District were given permanent assignments by trustees Monday night.

Guy Mannino, currently in charge of discipline and activities at El Dorado High School, will move to a similar permanent post at Valencia High School in September. John Myers, an assistant principal at Valencia, will take over Mannino's post at El Dorado next year.

Glen Collard, who has been serving as acting assistant principal at Kraemer Junior High since February, will continue to fill the post on a permanent basis.

Mannino has been a teacher at El Dorado since 1968, becoming activities director in 1976.

He holds his B.A. degree in history from California State College at Fullerton and his M.S. degree from Pepperdine University.

Collard has been at Kraemer since coming to the Placentia district in 1968. He was selected as the Placentia Jaycees Outstanding Young Educator last year.

He holds his B.S. degree from John Brown University in Arkansas and has continued studies at California State Universities at Long Beach and Fullerton.

Beer-Wine Permit

the first time an attorney had ever asked for that kind of information and that he answers all requests when possible. Input did go through staff along regular channels, he added.

Traub said that the statement in the letter about the police department having no objection to the sale of beer and wine on the premises "was not a completely accurate quote. But he (Aguirre) might have inferred that from our conversation."

The planning staff headed by Director Arnold Hamala is recommending approval of the beer and wine license although previously staff, when the petition was made once before, had recommended denial.

When asked what the difference was in circumstances, Hamala said that he saw no objections to the restaurant having a license for a six month trial period.

Research on recommendation for the permit was originally done by assistant planner Barry Hogan, Hamala said, and former Director of Community Development Thomas Nelson, who recommended denial.

This time, the research was by planner Joyce Rosenthal and Hamala and the recommendation is for approval, Hamala said. Asked if this was customary on this type of agenda item, Hamala said no, that usually the same researcher was kept so as not to duplicate work but that the reason for the change this time was work load.

City Administrator Edwin Powell said that the hearing before the city council will probably be readvertised and heard again because of the confusion at the end of the item.

With Councilman Jack Gomez absent, the vote on the appeal of denial of the beer and wine permit by the planning commission was 2 to 2, with Councilwoman Virginia Farmer and Mayor Pro Tem Rashford supporting the permit.

An appeal by Mayor George De Jesus to City Attorney Post was answered by Post: "I believe the fair thing to do when you get a close case like this and you have one member absent, is to put the matter on the agenda for the next meeting...in order to have the full council vote on it."

It was not explained how a councilman could vote on evidence he had not heard and Mayor De Jesus indicated he would seek a legal brief for further direction.

Several people spoke against the permit including Suzanne Miller, president of the 370-member Senior Citizens Club and Mike Serna, an area business man who lives in Yorba Linda, spoke in favor of it.

A LOT OF APPRECIATION was shown last week to veteran McFadden Elementary School teacher Don Oberle for the years of volunteer he has done with youth in the La Jolla and other areas of the city. Members of the Placentia Redevelopment Association and other community leaders and parents feted the Oberles with a pot luck luncheon. Oberle also received a plaque in appreciation and this special cake. With Oberle are (left) Mrs. Rosa Garcia and on the right, wife Barbara.

Victor Newton Named Official

Victor C. Newton, 44, has assumed the position of Chief Building Official for the city of Placentia. He was selected from a large number of applicants for the position.

Newton has been employed in the building field since 1954. He was a general contractor for approximately two years, and has worked as a construction foreman and superintendent for various contractors in the building trades. For thirteen years, Newton was employed with the City of Anaheim as a Building Inspector and a Plan Checker.

During his free time, he enjoys square dancing and camping. He and his family are residents of Anaheim.

If baby won't drink his water from a bottle, add a teaspoon of gelatin to 8 ounces warm water. He'll enjoy the color and flavor.

Make a clothespin bag of heavy material and sew it to a hanger. It'll move easily along the line, always within reach.

Cover the top half of children's chalk with masking tape. Chalk won't break so easily, hands and clothes stay cleaner.

If leather boots have become hard, rub in saddle soap and let stand a week or two. Polish them and they'll be like new.

Spilled alcohol leaves white patches on asphalt tile floor. A little baby oil or olive oil will remove them.

MAKE EVERY KILOWATT COUNT.

Edison has over 80 conservation tips. Here are a few.

SIX HOT TIPS ON AIR CONDITIONING.

You'll save energy. Money, too.

1. Air condition only rooms in use.

If you have a room unit, keep all doors closed to the room you're cooling. When the children (or family pet) go outside, don't forget to close the door. Keep the windows closed, too. And draw your draperies and blinds. Outside awnings or other sun screens will also reduce your cooling needs.

2. Keep equipment clean. Clean accessible parts, but be careful not to damage them. Check filters every month and clean or replace as needed.

3. Keep temperature at 78° or higher. The less difference there is between inside and outside temperatures, the lower the air conditioning cost. If you have a room air conditioner, use a thermometer to see that the room temperature drops no lower than 78°. Remember: air conditioning is not to make you cold—just comfortable.

4. Consider an automatic timer.

Timer attachments are available that will turn off your room air conditioner when you are away from home and turn it on before you return.

5. Investigate an energy-saving unit.

If you're in the market for a room air conditioner, compare the Energy Efficiency Ratio rating. The higher the efficiency, the more cooling you get from the electricity you use.

6. Insulate your attic. If your attic isn't properly insulated, you could be using too much energy for air conditioning. (Too much energy to heat your home, too.) For information, see your local insulation contractor.

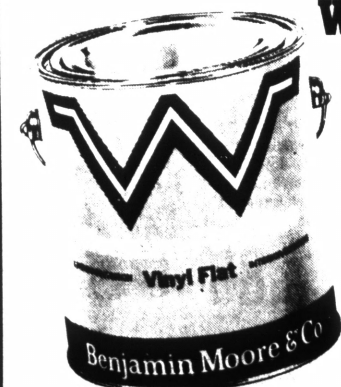

Free conservation booklet. For more of Edison's ways to conserve energy, write for our free booklet, "Conservation," Edison, P.O. Box 800, Rosemead, CA 91770.

RAYDRA INTERIORS

"Peggy's Pointers"

When planning a good color flow for your home, it's good to think about the relationship of one room to another.

As discussed in a previous column, when choosing carpet, it's best to select a carpet which is of a color which can be used freely throughout all the living areas. This helps the resale value of the home. That is, the carpet which is visible from central areas should all be of one color. Should you want a change of color, it is best to do it only if it is not readily visible from a central hallway.

If you have need of a different texture of carpet, by all means use it, but remember to keep the color similar so that it will flow into other areas easily. For instance, you might use a very plush carpet in the living and dining room, but want a shorter tighter texture for the family room - this type of treatment looks best if it is done with the careful selection of color.

Special Talk at Church in Marketplace

"Once a thief, always a thief"—fact or fiction? What makes a person choose the wrong path? What is criminal life really like?

How is a person trapped into it? Is there any way out?

These and many more questions will be answered on June 13th at 6 p.m. at "The Church in the Marketplace" as Ron Bates tells his story of a life of crime as one who has been there. The Church is located in the Mall of the Sierra Vista Shopping Center. For more information call 524-5473.

This unusual story should be heard by all of the youth of our community. It will be interesting and factual, the church reports. Everyone is welcome to come and hear the speaker.

They plan an annual trip which combines sheer fun and spiritual insights.

The evening would close with ice cream and cake. Participants may elect to attend the free fireworks show at Bradford Stadium, Valencia High School, sponsored by the city of Placentia.

Student Volunteers Honored

"Sharon Topper Humanitarian Awards" have been bestowed upon 43 Fullerton College psychology students for collectively giving some 10,000 hours of volunteer service in the community during the 1975-76 school year.

The award, he added, is "an attempt to honor Sharon's life and what it meant to both the faculty and students who knew and loved her." The 21-year old psychology major died after slipping into a coma.

Among the students honored were: Scott Hall and Fran Lindquist from Placentia and Judy Giboney, Jamye Grimm, Debbie Davidson and Danny Marquez from Yorba Linda.

NOTICE INVITING BIDS ON $990,000 GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS OF PLACENTIA UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that sealed proposals for the purchase of $990,000 par value general obligation bonds of Placentia Unified School District of Orange County, California, will be received by the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of said County at the place and up to the time below specified:

TIME: Tuesday, June 29, 1976, at 11:00 o'clock A.M. (California Daylight Saving Time)

PLACE: Office of the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, Orange County Administration Building, Room 501, 515 North Sycamore Street, Santa Ana, California.

MAILED BIDS: Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, Orange County Administration Building, Room 501, 515 North Sycamore Street, Santa Ana, California.

ISSUE: $990,000 consisting of 190 bonds, numbered 1 to 190, both inclusive, of the denomination of $5,000 each, all dated July 15, 1976, and designated "Election 1975, Series A."

MATURITIES: The bonds will mature in consecutive numerical order in the amounts for each of the several years as follows:

YEAR OF MATURITY	AMOUNT
July 15, 1985	$50,000
July 15, 1986	940,000

SIGNATURE ON BONDS: At least one of the signatures on the bonds will be manually affixed.

INTEREST: The bonds shall bear interest at a rate or rates to be fixed upon the sale thereof but not to exceed 8% per annum, payable annually for the first year and semi-annually thereafter.

PAYMENT: Said bonds and the interest thereon are payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the office of the Treasurer of Orange County.

REGISTRATION: The bonds will be coupon bonds registrable only as to both principal and interest.

NOT CALLABLE: The bonds are not callable before maturity.

SECURITY: Said bonds are general obligations of said school district, payable both principal and interest from ad valorem taxes which, under the laws now in force, may be levied without limitation as to rate or amount upon all of the taxable property, except certain personal property, in said school district.

TERMS OF SALE

INTEREST RATE: The maximum rate bid may not exceed 8% per annum, payable annually the first year and semi-annually thereafter. Each rate bid must be a multiple of 1/20 of 1%. No bond shall bear more than one interest rate, and all bonds of the same maturity shall bear the same rate. Each bond must bear interest at the rate specified in the bid from its date to its fixed maturity date. Not more than four interest rates may be bid, and there shall not be a spread of more than 1% between the highest and lowest interest rates bid. The repetition of any rate will not be considered the bidding of an additional rate.

AWARD: The bonds shall be sold for cash only. All bids must be for not less than all of the bonds hereby offered for sale and each bid shall state that the bidder offers par and accrued interest to the date of delivery, the premium, if any, and the interest rate or rates not to exceed those specified herein, at which the bidder offers to buy said bonds. Each bidder shall state in his bid the total net interest cost in dollars and the average net interest rate determined thereby, which shall be considered informative only and not a part of the bid.

Highest Bidder: The bonds will be awarded to the highest responsible bidder or bidders considering the interest rate or rates specified and the premium offered, if any. The highest bid will be determined by deducting the amount of the premium bid (if any) from the total amount of interest which the district would be required to pay from the date of said bonds to the respective maturity dates thereof at the coupon rate or rates specified in the bid and the award will be made on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the district. The lowest net interest cost shall be computed on a 360-day year basis. The purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of delivery. The cost of printing the bonds will be borne by the district.

Right of Rejection: The Board of Supervisors reserves the right, in its discretion, to reject any and all bids and to the extent not prohibited by law to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

Prompt Award: The Board of Supervisors will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than twenty-six hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for the receipt of proposals, provided, that the award may be made after the expiration of the specified time if the bidder shall not have given to said Board notice in writing of the withdrawal of such proposal.

Place of Delivery: Delivery of said bonds will be made to the successful bidder at the office of the County Auditor-Controller of Orange County.

Prompt Delivery, Cancellation for Late Delivery: It is expected that said bonds will be delivered to the successful bidder within thirty days from the date of sale thereof. The successful bidder shall have the right, at his option, to cancel the contract of purchase if the bonds are not tendered for delivery within sixty days from the date of the sale thereof, and in such event the successful bidder shall be entitled to the return of the deposit accompanying his bid.

Form of Bid: Each bid, together with the bid check, must be in a sealed envelope, addressed to the district with the envelope and bid clearly marked "Proposal for Placentia Unified School District Bonds."

Bid Check: A certified or cashier's check on a responsible bank or trust company in the amount of 3% of the principal amount of the bonds, payable to the order of the County Treasurer must accompany each proposal as a guaranty that the bidder, if successful, will accept and pay for said bonds in accordance with the terms of his bid. The proceeds of the check accompanying any accepted proposal shall be applied on the purchase price or, if such proposal is accepted but not performed, unless such failure of performance shall be caused by any act or omission of the district, shall then be retained by said Treasurer for the benefit of the district. The check accompanying each unaccepted proposal will be returned promptly.

Change in Tax Exempt Status: At any time before the bonds are tendered for delivery the successful bidder may disaffirm and withdraw the proposal if the interest received by private holders from bonds of the same type and character shall be declared to be taxable income under present federal income tax laws, either by a ruling of the Internal Revenue Service or by a decision of any federal court, or shall be declared taxable, or be required to be taken into account in computing any federal income taxes, by the terms of any federal income tax law enacted subsequent to the date of this notice.

Legal Opinion: The unqualified opinions of O'Melveny & Myers, attorneys, approving the validity of said bonds will be furnished the successful bidder at or prior to the date of delivery of the bonds, at the expense of the district. A copy of the legal opinion certified by the County Auditor by his facsimile signature will be printed on the back of each bond without cost to the successful bidder, if requested in his bid.

CUSIP: CUSIP numbers have been applied for and if requested by the purchaser will be printed on the bonds at the purchaser's expense.

No Litigation Certificate: At the time of payment for and delivery of said bonds the successful bidder will be furnished with a certificate that there is no litigation pending affecting the validity of the bonds.

GIVEN by order of the Board of Supervisors of Orange County, California, adopted May 25, 1976.

(SEAL) W. E. ST. JOHN
County Clerk of Orange County, California, and ex-officio Clerk of the Board of Supervisors thereof.

Highest Bidder: The bonds will be awarded to the highest responsible bidder or bidders considering the interest rate or rates specified and the premium offered, if any. The highest bid will be determined by deducting the amount of the premium bid (if any) from the total amount of interest which the district would be required to pay from the date of said bonds to the respective maturity dates thereof at the coupon rate or rates specified in the bid and the award will be made on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the district. The lowest net interest cost shall be computed on a 360-day year basis. The purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of delivery. The cost of printing the bonds will be borne by the district.

Right of Rejection: The Board of Supervisors reserves the right, in its discretion, to reject any and all bids and to the extent not prohibited by law to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

Prompt Award: The Board of Supervisors will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than twenty-six hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for the receipt of proposals, provided, that the award may be made after the expiration of the specified time if the bidder shall not have given to said Board notice in writing of the withdrawal of such proposal.

Place of Delivery: Delivery of said bonds will be made to the successful bidder at the office of the County Auditor-Controller of Orange County.

Prompt Delivery, Cancellation for Late Delivery: It is expected that said bonds will be delivered to the successful bidder within thirty days from the date of sale thereof. The successful bidder shall have the right, at his option, to cancel the contract of purchase if the bonds are not tendered for delivery within sixty days from the date of the sale thereof, and in such event the successful bidder shall be entitled to the return of the deposit accompanying his bid.

Form of Bid: Each bid, together with the bid check, must be in a sealed envelope, addressed to the district with the envelope and bid clearly marked "Proposal for Placentia Unified School District Bonds."

Bid Check: A certified or cashier's check on a responsible bank or trust company in the amount of 3% of the principal amount of the bonds, payable to the order of the County Treasurer must accompany each proposal as a guaranty that the bidder, if successful, will accept and pay for said bonds in accordance with the terms of his bid. The proceeds of the check accompanying any accepted proposal shall be applied on the purchase price or, if such proposal is accepted but not performed, unless such failure of performance shall be caused by any act or omission of the district, shall then be retained by said Treasurer for the benefit of the district. The check accompanying each unaccepted proposal will be returned promptly.

Change in Tax Exempt Status: At any time before the bonds are tendered for delivery the successful bidder may disaffirm and withdraw the proposal if the interest received by private holders from bonds of the same type and character shall be declared to be taxable income under present federal income tax laws, either by a ruling of the Internal Revenue Service or by a decision of any federal court, or shall be declared taxable, or be required to be taken into account in computing any federal income taxes, by the terms of any federal income tax law enacted subsequent to the date of this notice.

Legal Opinion: The unqualified opinion of O'Melveny & Myers, attorneys, approving the validity of said bonds will be furnished the successful bidder at or prior to the date of delivery of the bonds, at the expense of the district. A copy of the legal opinion certified by the County Auditor by his facsimile signature will be printed on the back of each bond without cost to the successful bidder, if requested in his bid.

CUSIP: CUSIP numbers have been applied for and if requested by the purchaser will be printed on the bonds at the purchaser's expense.

No Litigation Certificate: At the time of payment for and delivery of said bonds the successful bidder will be furnished with a certificate that there is no litigation pending affecting the validity of the bonds.

TUNE UP--Seventy Southern California high school students, making up 35 teams, turned numbed fingers to solving the great mystery: where were the malfunctions in 35 identically "bugged" 1976 Plymouth Volare sedans? It was all part of the 26th annual Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest. Students from Valencia High School included William Cogan, 307 N. Bradford and Douglas Broadus, 1347 Orleans Dr., both Placentia.

La Palapa Inn Violation

A permit for dancing issued for the La Palapa Inn on Santa Fe Street in Placentia, may be revoked if conditions attached to the permit are not met.

Involved in the problem, Placentia acting chief building official, Dick Hubbell, told Placentia City Council members is failure to comply with fire safety precautions. Part of the stipulations were that a wooden residence on the same lot and very close to the Inn be demolished. Problems have generated from the fact that the tenant agreed to the stipulations but apparently the landowner did not. Therefore the landlord does not want to tear down the house unless the tenant operating the La Palapa Inn pays $150 more rent a month. This, Hubbell reports, the tenant feels he cannot afford to do.

Demolition of the structure in back of the Inn also was to provide sufficient parking for the enterprise, Hubbell explained. No action was taken by the council.

El Dorado Gives Awards

Honorary Service Awards were presented by the El Dorado Parent Teacher Association this year to two Placentia residents, Joe Raya and Ray Ernst.

These awards are made each year to individuals in recognition of their outstanding contribution to the health, welfare and emotional development of youth.

Joe Raya, who is a life-long Placentia resident and father of seven children, has been with the Placentia School District since 1960 and is presently in charge of school maintenance.

Ray Ernst, dentist and father of five sons, has coached basketball and baseball youth teams, sponsored Little League teams and directed many fund raising youth projects.

He has been involved in the El Dorado Parents Club, the Track and Cross Country Booster Club.

Golden Hawks Are The Champs

by Brian Hilderbrand
With two outs in the sixth inning, Pat Vizenor doubled home two runners to lead El Dorado to a 2-1 victory over Mira Costa for the CIF 2A Championship.

Dan Petry was the winning pitcher, struck out eight and walked five to gain his fourth playoff win. Petry is a strong candidate for CIF Player of the Year.

Mira Costa got on the board in the fourth inning as Mark Hein doubled, and then scored on Marc Smith's RBI single. The Mustangs carried that lead into the sixth inning.

El Dorado started off the sixth with a single off the bat of Todd Peterson. Petry reached first on a fielders' choice bunt, as Peterson was thrown out going to second. Rich Smith came in to run for Petry. Jim Hayek struck out for the second out, but Ron Grace drew a walk to keep the inning alive. With two strikes, Vizenor connected on a fastball from pitcher Mike Myerchin for a double to left-center, scoring Smith and Grace.

Petry retired the Mustangs in the seventh for the victory.

El Dorado coach, Tim Terrell commented that "It wasn't one of Petry's better games, but he showed what kind of pitcher he is. He pitched out of some very difficult situations."

In his first year as head coach, Terrell has guided his men to a CIF Championship, the schools' first ever for baseball. Asked how he would follow up this year, Terrell stated "We'll win league next year!" The Hawks entered the playoffs as the second place team.

The championship was the fourth El Dorado has taken this year. The waterpolo, girl's basketball, wrestling and baseball teams have reached the zenith of high school sports.

Science Diet... One type of dog food your grocer doesn't have!

Science Diet® canine foods were developed for professional use...originally in research institutions.

Unlike dog foods in the grocery store... (where such factors as retail price range and "shelf appeal" are of prime concern), Science Diet® foods are formulated for the sole purpose of providing optimum nutritional performance.

Now, 4 specific Science Diet® fixed formula foods are available to the professional breeder or discriminating dog owner.

GROWTH for puppies
LACTATION for pregnant and lactating bitches
MAINTENANCE for healthy adult dogs
MAXIMUM STRESS for stressed or working dogs

Ingredients in each of these foods were chosen for their biological efficiency. Each diet combines high digestibility with maximum caloric density...resulting in less food intake and substantial reduction in stool volume. Mixing or supplementation of any type should be avoided. Daily feeding costs are about the same as with better dry foods...even less if you've been adding supplements.
